H. Is better than an even bet that when Uncle Sam's cavalrymen, now in camp in Putnam, swing along the highway from Attawaugan crossing to Cotton's bridge, as they will do in mapping and observing all of this section of the country, they will note what a splendid aviation field is available on the north shore of Alexander's lake, near Camp Pleasant, and the strong of cottages in that section. There are acres of ideal ground there for hangars and starting points, the land stretching away in level or easy rolling stretches and clear excepting for easily removable fences. This doesn't mean a camp there this week, by any means, but a possibility of the future. There are few places like it in Eastern Connecticut, if any.

HAROLD W. FILES,
Superintendent of Schools. Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol gaded, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 56 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractive ness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.
